YOUNG BANDITS ARE CAPTURED

Armed With Rifle and Revolver Glenwood Lads Are Detained by Shelbyville Police.

PLANNED TO WALK TO TEXAS

Shoot Chicken, Burn it up in Roasting and Had to Beg For Food.

Impressed by a false gospel of life and with the determination to get to Texas, where, as they have evidently read, respect for law is naught and men are shot in their tracks every day, Fred Cook and Leroy Link, the Glenwood youths who were reported missing yesterday, were captured by the police in Shelbyville last night and held in police station all night.

The news of their detention, after their identity was learned by the police, was telephoned to relatives in Glenwood last night. This morning Lee Link, father of one of the boys, and Mrs. Sarah Clifford, with whom Fred Cook resided, left for Shelbyville to return the boys to their homes.

Mrs Link has been prostrate since the boys disappeared. She spent a sleepless night Monday and had about given up hopes of recovering her son again when the glad tidings of their capture was received in Glenwood.

The boys started, according to their confession to the Shelbyville police, to walk to Texas and they had planned to make twenty miles a day. They walked from Glenwood to this city Monday afternoon and from here to Shelbyville yesterday. They were armed with a 32 calibre revolver and a 22 calibre rifle like youthful desperadoes, when caught by the police.

Young Cook traded his bicycle, purchased recently by Mrs. Clifford, for the revolver.

It is said that Mrs. Clifford plans to send the Cook boy back to the Spiceland orphans home from whence he came. She had taken him from the home to rear. It is said this is not the first escapade the boys have tried.

The boys, when they arrived in Shelbyville last evening, applied at the Gordon orphans' home in that city for something to eat. The Shelbyville Morning News adds the following concerning their capture:

The lads told the matron of the home that they were brothers and gave the names of Samuel and Robert Wesley. They told her their intentions and while they were eating a hearty supper, the police were called. Patrolmen Tolen and Farrell answered the call and took the boys to police headquarters where they were given a bed on the floor for the night.

When questioned at headquarters the lads gave their correct names and stated that they were enroute for Texas to seek employment on a cattle ranch. They left Glenwood at noon Monday and walked to Rushville where they spent several hours and the greater part of their money ($1.50) for cartridges. None of the cartridges were found in their possession at headquarters and when asked how they disposed of them the lads stated that they shot them in practice along the right of way of the Pennsylvania which route they followed to this city.

They spent the night at the home of a florist and one-half miles west of Rushville and after having eaten a good breakfast, started for this city, the first stop on their journey. The lads were traveling on a schedule compiled by them in which they were intending to reach their destination in thirty days traveling at twenty miles per day.

When called over long distance, Mrs. Sarah Clifford of Glenwood, who has been caring for the Cook lads since taken from an orphans' home stated that she would come to this city after the boys Wednesday. She also stated that the lads had stolen the revolver, but they both denied this, the Cook boy stating that he had traded his bicycle for the revolver and $1.

Link is a son of Mr and Mrs. Lee Link. Both boys were students in the sixth grade of the Glenwood schools. When asked where they procured their dinner Tuesday the lads stated that they had had none as they burned a chicken they shot with the rifle in attempting to roast it.

COUNTY CHAIRMEN WILL GATHER HERE

Republican Sixth District Committee Will Meet Tomorrow to Set Dates For County Meets.

FOR CONVENTION DELEGATES

The Republican Sixth district committee, composed of the county chairmen and Linus P. Meredith of Richmond, district chairman, will meet here tomorrow to set the date for the selection in the various counties of the district of delegates to the congressional convention. The congressional convention will be held, not to nominate a candidate for congress, but to name two delegates from the Sixth district to the Republican national convention in Chicago. It is not thought probable that the district committee will name the place and time for the convention to nominate a congressional candidate at this time. That will not be held, it is thought, before June and the date and city where it will be held will be named at a later meeting most likely.

BUCKLER FUNERAL.

The funeral services of William Buckler, who died yesterday afternoon at his home in West Water street, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Salvation Army church conducted by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

TRI KAPPAS PROPOSE TO VOTE FOR PRESIDENT IN STRAW BALLOT CONTEST

Meeting of Local Sorority is Resolved Into Suffragettes' Gathering When Politics is Discussed.

ONE THOUGHT IT REAL ONE

The Tri Kappas are not a militant band of suffragettes but the meeting this week held at the home of Miss Georgia Wyatt was resolved prematurely into a regular gathering of suffragettes.

The unusual digression from the regular lines of conversation was caused by the mention of the women's straw vote for presidential nominees which is being conducted by the Indianapolis Star.

"Are you going to vote in the Star contest?" one of the girls asked, putting the question to every one in the room. There was a chorus of affirmatives. It appeared they all intended to vote.

The natural question next came: "Who are you going to vote for?" That's when the argument began. But after all it was not much of an

COLD DID NOT DAMAGE WHEAT

Farmers Report Clover and Grasses Are in Fine Condition After Severe Weather.

EARLY SPRING IS EXPECTED

Deep Freezing During Winter Insures Easy Plowing—Luxuriance of Verdure Remarkable.

Such days as today inspire many people to leave off the talk of their own discomforts and their own disgust with the long-lasting and tight-spun winter and to consider the outlook for business and crop conditions. The latter, according to the combined opinion of careful farmers, is decidedly good, despite some talk to the contrary.

While there has been an extraordinary amount of freezing this winter there has been an equally remarkable lack of thawing. Freezing alone does far less harm to clover than thawing and freezing together, which fairly pull the little plants out of the ground. As to the wheat, it is said that some of the late sown fields may have suffered severely, but most of the wheat was not late sown, and has suffered little.

All the severe cold weather has come while a good depth of snow lay on the ground and this protected the wheat to such an extent that it is expected that it, as a general crop, and the whole family of grasses with it, will come out of the winter in fine condition.

Moreover the freezing and it is deep, for in most places about this vicinity the soil to a depth of two or three feet is now as solid as granite, insures easy plowing in the spring, and is in other respects an excellent thing for the soil. Also, it is moist, which is also well. If the hoped for happens, and an early spring arrives, it is the expectation of the farmers that the first few warm days will see such an abundant growth of grasses and young wheat, and such an outbursting of leaves as will be as unusual as the winter has thus far been.

Cloudy tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

TOMORROW IS TO BE THE BIG DAY

Newly Elected Democratic Precinct Committeemen Will Reorganize County Central Committee.

SLATE BREAKERS OPTIMISTIC

Say Canvass of Committeemen Show John Gantner Will be Defeated—What's Behind?

Tomorrow's the big day in Rushville. The new Democratic precinct committeemen, elected last Friday and Saturday, will meet in the Hendricks club rooms in the afternoon for the purpose of reorganizing the county central committee. The Republican Sixth district committee, consisting of the county chairmen and the district chairman will meet here tomorrow to select dates to name delegates to the district convention.

Mark Purcell is the retiring Democratic county chairman. It appears today that the fight will be made at the Democratic meeting for this position. And from the general talk among Rushville Democrats today it will not be much of a fight, either. It appears now that the faction which Jim Casady represents will whip the John Gantner supporters to a frazzle.

One Democrat who is opposed to the alleged "ring" which is supporting John Gantner for county chairman, and which sought to line up by "road-roller" methods the ten precinct committeemen from this township for Gantner, said today that a canvass of the precinct committeemen showed Gantner's opponent would be elected.

It appears that there is no assurance that Jim Casady's name will be presented to the convention. His name is the only one, however, which has been mentioned as the candidate of the "anti-ringers." The fight is not being waged against Gantner, one Democrat said today, so much as it is against the men who are behind him.

Another Democrat intimated today that the "ring" had another slate prepared which would undoubtedly be broken. It was said by this Democrat that the member of the "ring" crowd who is slated to be postmaster—understand this is only a dream so far as a Democratic president would have to be elected before the dream came true—will not be postmaster if the old line Democrats can keep him from it. And it is said that another man of that crowd who is slated for delegate to the State convention will never be chosen if the "anti-ringers" keep up their reputation as slate busters.

Back of it all there is a fight between the followers of Tom Taggart and those opposed to his rule of the Democratic party, it is understood. It is the old line Democrats, it is declared, in this county, who are aligned with the Taggart element and it is that faction which has been termed the "ring" here which is opposed to the domination of the Taggart machine.

The leader of the "anti-ringers" is a well known Taggart adherent. It is he who passed a large "package" along to Charles Hack at that memorable district convention at Connersville several weeks ago. Rush county was pledged to support Hack, and it did it nobly. But there was no use. One ballot was all that was necessary to elect a Taggart chairman, as some of his followers had the plan all arranged. And it is whispered that some Rush county Democrats were in the coalition which conspired to beat Hack because he was not in favor of the Taggart domination.

In other words the present fight seems to hinge on the same old question: The opponents of the Taggart machine were beaten in the convention here at the tactics which have been used by Taggart adherents in the past. They were wise to such maneuvers and knew how to break them up.

That such conditions prevail was revealed by a word one of the opponents of the alleged "ring" dropped this morning when he said the supporters of John Gantner for county chairman were attempting to take the leadership of the party away from the old-line Democrats.

BLAZE DID SMALL DAMAGE

Defective Flue Caused an Alarm This Morning.

Fire from a defective flue did small damage this morning about 8:30 o'clock at the home of William Fitzgerald, 714 North Sexton street. An alarm was sent in but the blaze was extinguished before the company arrived. A serious loss was averted by the timely discovery and as it was, only a small hole was burned in the roof.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. SARAH CROSS

Succumbs After Long Illness With Cancer at Home of Daughter, Mrs. Elmer Readle.

FUNERAL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Sarah Cross, 55 years old, wife of James M. Cross, died this morning at four o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Readle, in North Jackson street. Mrs. Cross had been ill for a long time suffering with cancer. Ten weeks ago today she underwent an operation and for a time improved, but during the last few days had been in a serious condition and death was expected. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Readle.

The remains were taken to her late home in Posey township this afternoon. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon in the Arlington Christian church, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Conner, assisted by the Rev. C. M. Vocum. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery there.

POOL GAME GOES TO CONDE

Defeats Cluster Dennis in Close Contest, 100 to 85.

Scott Conde defeated Cluster Dennis last night in the pool tournament at the Demmer pool room, by a score of 100 to 85. The game was very close and the winner was not named until the last few minutes of play. Scott Conde made the high run of the evening, getting twelve balls. The tournament continues to attract large crowds and great interest is being shown. One of the best games of the tournament is expected tonight when Frank Wooster, Sr., and John Brown meet. As usual the game will start at eight o'clock.

FELL AGAINST STOVE.

Robert Lakin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lakin was severely burned about the arms and legs yesterday morning while dressing. He accidentally fell against a stove, burning both legs and one arm. The burns, while painful, are not thought to be serious.

Many shoes sold abroad as "American-made" are not such in any particular.

TO KEEP FARMERS IN HOOSIERDOM

Purdue Agricultural Extension Department Attempts Extensive Campaign in State.

SPECIAL CAR ON BIG FOUR

It Will Arrive in Rushville Feb. 27, at 11:04 a. m. and Remain Until Next Day.

Probably the most extensive campaign ever attempted along similar lines for the extension of agricultural knowledge throughout a State opened at 8:25 a. m. January 25, when a special exhibit car left Lafayette over the Big Four on a tour of the New York Central Lines. The car is to visit nearly two hundred villages, towns and cities during the late winter and spring months and will probably not return to Lafayette until early in May.

The car will arrive at Rushville on February 27th, at 11:04 a. m. o'clock and will remain until 5:26 p. m. o'clock of the next day.

The exhibit is to be open to the public during these hours and two hundred thousand people will be reached during the itinerary of the trip. "Exhibits have been prepared," says Prof. G. I. Christie, superintendent of the Purdue agricultural extension department, "showing the various lines of experimental work carried on at the Purdue Experiment station. Seeds, samples of fertilizers, methods of handling crops, models of poultry houses and photographs will be used in a large way to aid the work of the men who will accompany the car. The shortness of the stay at each point precludes the giving of any adherence, but the farmers and city men are invited to ask any questions about agricultural methods or conditions and are assured that Messrs. J. F. Mulligan and Robert Falls, who are to be in charge of the exhibit, will be amply competent to present the University views on such subjects. Both are Purdue graduates and have won considerable recognition by their ability along agricultural lines."

The car was secured through the courtesy of John Emig, industrial agent of the Big Four railroad, who expressed the desire of his company to do anything possible to convince Indiana farmers of the wonderful resources to be found at their doors and thus keep them in the realm of Hoosierdom.

WAS FEATURE OF BANQUET

James E. Watson is Cheered to Echo By Leaguers.

Mr. Watson's speech was the feature of the banquet, says the New Castle Courier in speaking of the Lincoln League banquet there. He made an argument for the fundamental principles of Republicanism and earnestly, fearlessly and courageously defended the protective tariff. The speech was well received by the audience and the speaker was cheered to the echo. When he arose to speak, after repeated calls from the members of the Marion club of Indianapolis, the audience arose in a wild outburst of enthusiasm.

The "nothing doing" sign was out in the circuit court today, no decisions being returned or cases tried. The case of the State vs. George Smalley, charged with selling stolen goods, will be tried tomorrow. Judge Blair spent last night in Shelbyville and will return there tonight.

The Ministry of John the Baptist. Mark i:1-8; Luke iii:1-20.

Golden Text—Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. Matt. iii:2

(1.) Verses 1-3—Where are the predictions to which Mark here refers? (See Isa. xl:3; Mal. iii:1.)

(2.) What reason is there to think that Isaiah and Malachi had John the Baptist and Jesus in mind when they wrote the words quoted by Mark?

(3.) What difference does it make to the potency and truth of Christ's gospel whether Mark was right or wrong in thinking these prophecies applied specifically to John and Jesus?

(4.) Verses 4-8—What did John's baptism stand for?

(5.) Show from John's teaching what he meant by repentance.

(6.) What difference, if any, was there in their standing with God between John's converts and converts today to Christianity?

(7.) Luke iii:1-6—What literary and historic excellence can you point out in verses 1 and 2?

(8.) Whose son was John, what relation was he to Jesus and what was there of note about his birth and training?

(9.) What are the moral equivalents of valleys filled up, mountains leveled down, crooked roads made straight and rough places smooth?

(10.) When will the prophecy be fulfilled "All flesh shall see the salvation of God?"

(11.) Verses 7-8—Who composed the multitude that came to John to be baptized?

(12.) What reason can you give to justify John in using such harsh language to those who came to be baptized?

(13.) What effect will any religious ceremony have upon those who are living in sin?

(14.) What are the "fruits" of repentance?

(15.) If a son persists in living in sin what benefit will a saintly father be to him in getting him into heaven?

(16.) Verse 9—What are the influences, already at work, which will culminate in the utter destruction of hypocrites and other hardened sinners? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

(17.) Verses 10-14—According to John, how much virtue is there in good works as a means of salvation?

(18.) Why should all persons who apply to the church for membership get practically the same instructions as John gave those who applied to him for baptism?

(19.) Verses 15-18—What was the difference between John's mission and that of Jesus?

(20.) In what sense was John inferior to Jesus, officially, morally, naturally or otherwise?

(21.) What is the baptism of the Holy Ghost?

(22.) Verses 19-20—What are the facts in connection with Herod's imprisonment of John?

CHARLES E. RUSSELL

Mentioned as Socialist Candidate for President.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—The national convention of the Socialist party will be held in Indianapolis Sunday, May 12. Charles Edward Russell, the eastern magazine writer, is spoken of as a probable nominee for the presidency. Others mentioned are Eugene V. Debs of Terre Haute and Duncan McDonald of Illinois.

CARE OF THE INSANE A GROWING PROBLEM

Additional Facilities Are Needed, Says the Governor.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—On Sept. 30 an average of one in every 480 inhabitants of Indiana was insane, according to figures compiled by the board of state charities for the last fiscal year. The highest ratio was in the central counties, where one person in every 440 inhabitants was insane. The district cared for by the northern state hospital at Logansport, and that by the southern hospital at Evansville, had equal ratios, or one insane person for every 460 inhabitants. The district cared for by the eastern hospital at Richmond had one insane person for every 496 inhabitants. The lowest ratio was in the district cared for by the southeastern hospital at Madison, where there was one insane person for every 496 inhabitants.

Governor Marshall has said repeatedly that it will be advisable for the next general assembly to provide for additional care of the insane, in order to take insane persons from county jails and poor asylums. Whether an additional hospital should be provided, or more room added to those already in operation is a detail the governor has not yet satisfied himself concerning.

Forfeited to State.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 14.—Sheriff Dan Scott offered the Lexington city market house for sale for $478.01, alleged to be due as taxes to the state and county. There was no bid, and he declared the property forfeited to the state and county. City authorities claim that the market house is used for municipal purposes, and is therefore exempt from taxation.

Serious Premature Explosion.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 14.—Four workmen were probably fatally hurt by a premature explosion of dynamite in a quarry near here. The injured are John Isaacs, Robert Pierce, John Smith and William Wallace.

Took Blame on Himself.

Williamstown, Ky., Feb. 14.—John M. Webster was convicted here of the murder of Sam Collins, a neighbor. Witnesses swore that his son Lindsay fired the fatal shot, but Webster took all the blame on himself.

TO INVESTIGATE STATIONS NOW

Chairman of State Railroad Commission Says Passengers Comfort Has Been Neglected.

INCLUDES CAR TEMPERATURE

Time Is Given Previous to This to Matters Affecting Danger of Railroad Operation.

The Indiana railroad commission, through W. J. Wood, chairman, has issued an order to its inspection department for the inspectors to give particular attention this year to the condition of steam railroad waiting rooms in the stations over the state and to the heating of passenger cars during the winter months. In the order the inspectors are instructed to give particular attention to newspaper articles complaining of waiting room conditions.

All the inspectors employed by the department were formerly in the employ of steam railroads. This fact was considered by Chairman Wood in his instructions, a paragraph from which is as follows:

"I am coming to the conclusion that our inspection force has been so busily engaged with matters affecting the danger of railroad operation that it has given insufficient attention to the matter of the comfort of passengers. You are all railroad men and railroad men in this country generally have cared little about the comfort and convenience of the traveling public."

Continuing, the letter of instruction says:

"This commission desires that you make such complaints as come through the public press a special feature for investigation and report during the year. It is not only the lighting and heating at stations, but the comfort of passengers on cars that should invite your attention. During cold weather it is the custom of some of the railroads to heat their cars to a temperature of 80 or 90 degrees. The passengers are warmly clothed and endure this intense heat for hours, when, if they were subjected to the same heat during the summer time, their clothing would be altogether different.

"I call your attention especially to the E. & T. H. coaches with reference to this matter, and I desire that

Just Try a Ten Cent Box of Cascarets

Insures You For Months Against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Sedentary habits, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient mastication of food, constipation, a torpid liver, worry and anxiety, are the most common causes of stomach troubles. Correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. For sale by All Dealers.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pains in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are common symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Rushville residents demand further proof than the following testimonial?

Mrs. L. W. Smith, R. F. D. No. 19, Arlington, Ind., says: "My child was afflicted with kidney complaint and suffered severely from backache and headaches. The doctors could give no relief and the various remedies that were tried proved just as useless. At last we learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and my husband obtained a box. This preparation soon brought relief and since taking it, the child has been in much better health. I give Doan's Kidney Pills my most hearty endorsement.

the inspectors should watch closely for discomfort of this kind to the end if necessary, that this commission may recommend and even order the carrying of a thermometer on each car to indicate the temperature at which it is kept.

"Finally I call your attention to the fact that this commission for four or five years has been required to keep the public informed not only as to the security of the public but as to the accommodation of the public. During the coming year, having worked up the larger matter, I think with some success, we should proceed now to see that persons who travel in this state may travel not only safely but in such a way as is restful and healthful and satisfactory to them.

One report has been filed by an inspector, D. E. Matthews in compliance with the letter of instructions. A number of stations were visited, among them stations on the Monon, Vandalia and Big Four. Concerning the Monon, Mr. Matthews said the road was rapidly bettering stations facilities on its line, but that it could not be expected to remedy all bad conditions within a year, as the expenses would be too great. The others, he said, were found in fairly good conditions.

Chairman Wood pointed out in his letter that the law requires that railway stations shall be well lighted and heated, and said he feared the requirement of the law is ignored in a great many stations of the state.

Attention of the commission to the advisability of some general inspection of stations was called by the publication of an interview by an Indianapolis man who was compelled to wait nearly an hour in a college town in a station that was badly lighted and not heated, with condition repeated the following evening in a few miles farther along the road.

"The newspapers can help us a great deal in this proposal," said Chairman Wood, "but the public should remember that all the evils of the railway waiting room, and I fear they are many, can not be remedied at once. The users of one station see only the one, while the railroad, it must be remembered, has hundreds of them. It is a matter of financial impossibility to remedy all objectionable features at once. However, many of the objectionable features are due to carelessness of station agents, and can be remedied with little or no cost to the railroad."

* * * * * FEWER DAILY NEWSPAPERS * * * * *

Newspaper census figures for 1911, compiled by the American Newspaper Annual and Directory indicate that multiplication of daily papers in the United States has come to a halt. A year ago the number was 2,472; the 1912 Annual lists 13 less, showing that the trend is now in the downward direction. According to this authority, greater mortality than birth rate is explained by suspension or consolidation of newspapers in crowded and unproductive fields. New England has lost four dailies, New York, four, middle west states nine, and the western states have thirteen less than a year ago. Gains have been heaviest in the southern states, while the middle Atlantic section has an increase of three.

Weekly and semi-weekly newspapers also seem to have reached their limit in numbers. The 1912 Annual names and describes 16,229 weeklies, 40 less than in 1911, and 605 semi-weeklies, as compared with 617 in 1911.

The 1912 Annual marks its forty-fourth year, contain more than 1200 pages describing 24,345 newspapers and periodicals, present ten distinct items about each, including its circulation rating, and gives 1910 census population for the 11,000 towns in which newspapers are published.

Aeronautics, moving pictures and Esperanto are responsible for new lists of publications devoted to these subjects. There are over two hundred of these lists in the book just from the press. Religious publications number 865, agricultural journals total 463, and there are no less than 129 separate divisions of class and trade periodicals. Exponents of more than forty secret society orders are catalogued. Foreign language papers printed in thirty-four different forms of speech are described in a classification of their own.

These statistics are gathered from returns by the press of the country and sifted, verified and arranged by the publishers of this directory, who are engaged in such revision throughout the year. The importance of the newspaper publishing industry, likewise the development and rapid increase of advertising, is impressively illustrated in the magnitude of this work.

VAPOR TREATMENT

For Catarrh, Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat and Bronchitis.

Everybody knows that breathing HYOMEI a few times a day through the little hard rubber pocket inhaler will in a short time drive out catarrh.

Many people regularly use the vapor treatment at night in conjunction with the inhaler, claiming that it hastens results.

This is the vapor treatment: Into a bowl three quarters full of boiling water pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for five minutes the soothing, healing, antiseptic HYOMEI vapor. Try it when using HYOMEI for any nose or throat ailment.

HYOMEI is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co., to put an end to catarrh, or money back. A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents; complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1.00.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will offset the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients, which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out, and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair and don't resort to old-time hair dyes. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist to-day, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Hargrove and Mullin.

IN DEFENSE OF THE MIDDLEMAN

Retailers Not Responsible for High Cost of Living.

ATTITUDE OF THE MERCHANTS

“While People Are Condemning the High Cost of Living,” Says the President of Indiana Business Men's Association, “I Would Say,” He Continues, “They Are Paying the Cost of High Living.”

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—In the address of Fred Frohmuth of Muncie, president of the Indiana Business Men's association, at the opening session of that organization, the high cost of living was touched on. Mr. Frohmuth came to the defense of the retail merchant, who, he declared, was not responsible for the high prices.

The Indiana Business Men's association is the result of a recent movement to organize the retail merchants in all communities of the state for the purpose of mutual protective legislation. A large portion of the membership is now composed of retail grocers, but men of all lines of retail business are being taken in.

“There is a sentiment abroad that the retail merchant is responsible for the high cost of living,” said Mr. Frohmuth. “The middlemen, as we are called, are just as necessary in the marts of business and distribution as the farmer, laborer or professional man is to the community. While people are condemning the high cost of living, I would say they are paying the cost of high living. Competition today is keen, and certainly the public must look to someone else than the retailer as being responsible for the high cost of living.”

HELPS HIM OUT

Wife No. 3 Takes Up Cudgels in Behalf of Alleged Bigamist.

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb. 14.—Confronted by a woman and two children who claim to be his own, John William Smythe was arrested on a charge of adultery at a residence in Chesterton, this county, where he had been living as the husband of the widow of the late John Tillotson, millionaire land owner. Smythe and the widow were married in this city Jan. 8. Smythe gave an affidavit that his former wife had died Dec. 22, 1898.

The complaining witness is Mrs. Mary Smythe of Toledo, O. She exhibits a marriage document dated at Philadelphia nine years ago. She was accompanied by two children, a boy aged six and a girl one year older.

According to her story, immediately after their marriage in Philadelphia, she and her husband went to Toledo, where he was employed. Last summer his work took him to Chesterton, where he commenced paying attention to the widow, proposed, and was accepted.

When confronted by wife No. 2 Smythe denied she had ever been his wife. She became furious and charged him with having a wife and two daughters in Philadelphia. Wife No. 3 has engaged counsel for her husband, and a detective is now on the way to the Quaker city to locate Mrs. Smythe No. 1, if possible.

A Ban on Fake Butter.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—H. E. Barnard, chief chemist for the state board of health, has his weather eye out for so-called butter made by placing a pound of real butter and a pound of milk together in a patented machine and mixing them thoroughly. If anyone is found trying to sell the stuff for butter, Barnard avers, he will find the state food law tapping him on the shoulder and inviting him over to police court.

“Confession” a Fake.

Michigan City, Ind., Feb. 14.—Following an investigation by Warden Fogarty of Michigan City of the confession made by Robert Collier, a colored convict, that he had murdered Eva Blecklein, a white woman, at Evansville, and for which crime Clifton Redman is serving a long-time sentence, the negro's statements have been found to be fabrications.

Proctor Retires From Race.

Elkhart, Ind., Feb. 14.—State Senator Robert Proctor has finally withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. Soon after Proctor entered the contest his opponents protested, saying Proctor would not reach the age limit set by the state constitution until a month after the election.

George W. Dillon on Trial.

Lagrange, Ind., Feb. 14.—George W. Dillon is on trial in the circuit court charged with the murder of his second wife. He is alleged to have caused her death by strychnine poisoning, administering the drug in capsule form and giving it to her as a quinine.

Slander Is Charged.

Sullivan, Ind., Feb. 14.—Margaret Kakuk has brought suit in the circuit court against Julia Backsha of Shelbyburn for $2,000 for slander, alleging that the defendant injured her good name in the community by talking about her to her neighbors.

PARDON SAID TO AWAIT BRANDT

Reversal of Sentiment In Favor of Young Convict.

NEW YORK COURT STIRRED UP

Conviction Five Years Ago of Mortimer Schiff's Valet on Charges Now Declared to Have Been Unjustly Brought, May Be Followed by Allegations of Conspiracy to “Railroad” Young Man to Prison.

New York, Feb. 14.—Justice and freedom are just around the corner for Folke E. Brandt. On the verge of pardoning the man who has spent five years of a thirty-year sentence in Dannemora, Governor Dix has cut through legal tangles by appointing Supreme Court Justice Gerard special commissioner to determine whether executive clemency should be used.

The governor stiffened to a decision when Attorney General Carmody, after talking with Justice Gerard and District Attorney Whitman, told him flatly over the long-distance telephone that the people were demanding justice for Brandt and that none but he could give it. The attorney general wanted Brandt's pardon issued instantly. The governor, greatly disturbed, consented to the appointment of Justice Gerard as special commissioner.

His order reached here toward the close of a day of amazing court procedure in which Judge Otto A. Rosalsky, after hearing Alton B. Parker speak for Mortimer L. Schiff, overrode Justice Gerard's request that the court of general session delay decision on a new trial until the supreme court has decided whether the writ of habeas corpus should be sustained or granted, and reversing his whole position as regards Brandt, vacated the former proceedings and ordered the man brought before him.

Judge Rosalsky's action was taken despite the protest of the district attorney and counsel for Brandt. It was a shock to Justice Gerard, who alone has jurisdiction over Brandt. The justice himself requested the district attorney and Brandt's counsel to agree to an adjournment of the proceedings before Rosalsky, and was assured by them that such a postponement would be had. Justice Gerard would not criticize the course taken by a fellow judge, but it is known that there will be contempt of court proceedings if anybody attempts to take Brandt out of the Tombs without Justice Gerard's consent.

The district attorney, in agreement with the attorney general and the counsel for Brandt, says that Justice Rosalsky has no power to reopen Brandt's case and that the whole proceeding was farcical so far as its legal effect is concerned. Only Justice Gerard, Mr. Whitman says, may remand Brandt to the custody of the district attorney for a new trial, and Judge Rosalsky's action will have no further effect than giving the judge a chance to defend his record on the bench and permitting Alton B. Parker to inform the public that Schiff no more resists a reopening of the case and a thorough investigation. Not the least sensational development was the news that the district attorney has evidence of a conspiracy which he purposes to lay before the grand jury.

STATE PENSION BILL

Confederate Soldiers in Kentucky to Be Provided For.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 14.—The senate of the Kentucky general assembly has passed a bill providing for a pension of $10 a month for each indigent Confederate soldier.

There is also a clause in the measure which guarantees a soldier's widow a life sum provided the marriage took place before 1890. The bill, if passed by the house, will entail an expense of $120,000 a year.

New President an American.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Chinese republic, is a naturalized American. The department of commerce and labor so held in 1904 on the ground that Dr. Sun, who was born in the Hawaiian Islands, had been endowed with American citizenship by the act of 1900, which provided a government for Hawaii and declared all citizens of the territory to be citizens of the United States.

Crushed in Sidewalk Elevator.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—Edward Jones, a drayman, was crushed and killed in a sidewalk elevator accident on the Maryland street side of the Majestic building. His head and shoulders protruded from between the heavy iron doors in the sidewalk and the lift, which was being forced upward by hydraulic pressure.

Council Will Investigate.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 14.—Samuel Sansberry, prosecutor in the Owensboro police court, who, with fifteen young men, was arrested in a raid on an alleged gambling house, pleaded not guilty. The case was continued. It is reported that a special meeting of the council will be called to inquire into the matter.

STORM BUGGIES VERY POPULAR

They Are Practically New on the Market, But Are Much In Demand.

ALL FARMERS OWN THEM

Closed Vehicles Are Dangerous In Case of Runaway But They Are Comfortable.

Despite the fact that the up-to-date storm vehicle has only been introduced in this part of the country a couple of years, there are few places that are able to support a greater number of these buggies, or a more stylishly finished rig than can be found here. A few years ago if a farmer had driven along the road in one of these splendidly closed vehicles, the entire population would have turned out to see the spectacle and the same would have created as much comment as the average circus parade.

The method used to be for farmers and their families to drive to the village, bundled up in blankets and quilts, yet facing the cold winds that blew so sharply during the winter months. It is strange that it never occurred to the farmers of that time that a tightly closed vehicle would be much more comfortable in every way.

Now there is scarcely a farmer in the community that does not own a storm buggy of some description. The number of these vehicles is increasing rapidly. Locals dealers say they have enjoyed a big demand for them this winter as well as last spring. It seems as though those sold before the advent of the present cold wave only served to advertise them and the

ECZEMA

Quickly Cured With “Zemo.”
A TRIAL TREATMENT FOR 25 CENTS

The makers of ZEMO—the celebrated eczema and skin cure—have placed on the market a trial treatment package consisting of a generous bottle of ZEMO, a trial cake of ZEMO SOAP and a 32 page booklet “How to Preserve the Skin.”—This entire package to be sold at 25c, so that everybody can test the true healing and cleansing properties of ZEMO. We have received a good supply of these trial-treatment packages and urge all those troubled with Eczema, Pimples, Itching Skin, or any other skin or scalp disease, to come here and get the Zemo trial treatment. We heartily endorse and recommend ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP to all persons suffering from any form of skin or scalp trouble. It is a clean, soothing, healing wash and a sweet antiseptic soap that does not glaze over the trouble like salves, powders and greasy lotions, but penetrates to the very root of this trouble. ZEMO stops the itching at once and opens the pores and draws out the poisonous accumulations to the surface of the skin leaving it clean and healthy. Get a trial-treatment of ZEMO today—you'll find it the best 25c. investment you ever made. F. E. Wolcott's drug store.

LOST SLEEP TEN YEARS

Anyone who knows B. F. Sugg, of Tyner, N. C., will tell you that he speaks nothing but the truth.

Mr. Sugg has suffered greatly from sleeplessness and in a recent letter says: “For ten years I have suffered greatly from a nervous ailment which caused me to lose at least three hours of needed sleep every night.

“I tried everything I could find to get relief, and family one bottle of Vinol gave me more relief than all other remedies. I am grateful to Vinol for my present good health.”

Many persons who are in a nervous, run-down condition get so they cannot sleep, and this is almost certain to wreck their health unless the right steps are taken.

Our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, Vinol, builds up the body and nourishes the nerves with pure, rich blood, and makes it possible to get natural, restful sleep. We guarantee that Vinol will do you good (money back if it fails,) and if you are weak, nervous and sleepless, you certainly should try Vinol. F. B. Johnson & Co., druggists, Rushville, Ind.

demand for many of the vehicles came with the arrival of cold weather.

They may be a trifle dangerous in case of a runaway accident for one would not be able to get out of a closed vehicle as readily as out of an open one, yet the real comfort derived from riding in a vehicle of this kind is so much greater that the average farmer is more than willing to take the risk.

Farmers alone are not the users of the closed buggies, however. A number of city people have them and they are to be seen in common use on the streets of Rushville daily. Even the doctors have turned to the closed buggies to get protection from the stormy weather and the cold. They find the closed vehicles just like thing to ride in when called from a warm bed at night to answer a professional call.

The farmers of Rush county show a very prosperous state in the purchase of the closed buggies. They cost about the same as do the regular buggies that are used at other seasons of the year and are handled by practically all vehicle dealers.

FARMERS VISIT EXHIBIT CAR

Special Display of Products of Several Western States is Made by Railroad Co.

ON SIDING AT BIG FOUR DEPOT

Estimated 1500 People Visited Car at Carthage Yesterday—No Public Lecture Here.

An exhibition car, conducted by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railways, showing minerals, grasses, fruits, grains, vegetables and other products grown in North and South Dakota, Washington, Montana and Idaho, arrived in Rushville this morning over the Big Four railroad. The car will remain here until tomorrow morning when it will proceed to Milroy to remain there all day.

It is the custom of the managers with the car to give an illustrated lecture in every town which is visited at night, but it was impossible to find a suitable place here for a public meeting. Such a gathering was held in Carthage last night and a large crowd was in attendance. Two lectures were given. It is estimated fifteen hundred people visited the car in Carthage yesterday. The illustrated lecture will be given in a hall in Milroy tomorrow night.

The car was on a siding at the Big Four station all day and was open free to visitors from nine in the morning until six in the evening. A number of Rushville and Rush county business men and farmers passed through the car here today and were well pleased with the displays. The school children and teachers were invited to visit the car. A number of children viewed the exhibit.

It is the theory of the railroad that such an exhibit will be of mutual benefit to farmers and the company. The managers believe the exhibit will prove an object lesson to many industrious farmers who may attempt to exemplify the showing made in the car.

The car is being operated over the Big Four railway system in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway system. Its purpose is to show what is being done in the line of agriculture along their new line, the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway, through the above five named States to the Pacific coast.

The attendants on the car are Chas. Scherneck, of Lewistown, Montana, and Morton Snider, of Seattle, Washington. Mr. Scherneck is an old-time rancher of Montana. He attributes his height of six feet and three inches and his averdupois of 310 pounds to Montana's pure air and rich foods. Mr. Snider formerly lived near Hope, Bartholomew county. He is well posted on the entire territory opened by the building of this new road. He delivered the lectures for the company.

The itinerary of the car was as far East as Pennsylvania. It is now returning West and will be on the road until the first of April. It will have traveled over 10,000 miles and will be visited by over a quarter of a million of people.

FALLS HEIR TO FORTUNE

Mrs. Roy Aldridge Will Receive $50,000 From Relative.

According to news received here Mrs. Roy Aldridge of Pittsburgh, formerly Miss Anna Jordan, will eventually fall heir to a rich legacy of $50,000 as provided by the will of a wealthy aunt who died recently. The money will not be Mrs. Aldridge's until her parents die, but she now receives some of the income from her fortune. Friends here of the newly wedded couple will be glad to hear of their good fortune.

"I said that Christine Daae's abductor was the Angel of Music, alias the opera ghost, and that the real name was . . ."

"Hush! . . . And did he believe you?"

"No."

"He attached no importance to what you said?"

"No."

"He took you for a bit of a madman?"

"Yes."

"So much the better!" sighed the Persian.

And they continued their road. After going up and down several staircases which Raoul had never seen before, the two men found themselves in front of a door which the Persian opened with a master-key. The Persian and Raoul were both, of course, in dress-clothes; but, whereas Raoul had a tall hat, the Persian wore the astrakhan cap which I have already mentioned. It was an infringement of the rule which insists upon the tall hat behind the scenes; but in France foreigners are allowed every license; the Englishman his traveling cap, the Persian his cap of astrakhan.

"Sir," said the Persian, "your tall hat will be in your way; you would do well to leave it in the dressing-room."

"What dressing-room?" asked Raoul.

"Christine Daae's."

And the Persian, letting Raoul through the door which he had just opened, showed him the actress' room opposite.

They were at the end of the passage the whole of which Raoul had been accustomed to traverse before knocking at Christine's door.

"How well you know the opera, sir!"

"Not so well as 'he' does!" said the Persian modestly.

And he pushed the young man into Christine's dressing-room, which was as Raoul had left it a few minutes earlier.

Closing the door, the Persian went to a very thin partition that separated the dressing-room from a big lumber-room next to it. He listened and then coughed loudly.

There was a sound of some one stirring in the lumber-room; and, a few seconds later, a finger tapped at the door.

"Come in," said the Persian.

A man entered, also wearing an astrakhan cap and dressed in a long overcoat. He bowed and took a richly carved case from under his coat, put it on the dressing-table, bowed once again and went to the door.

"Did no one see you come in, Darius?"

"No, master."

"Let no one see you go out."

The servant glanced down the passage and swiftly disappeared.

The Persian opened the case. It contained a pair of long pistols.

"When Christine Daae was carried off, sir, I sent word to my servant to bring me these pistols. I have had them a long time and they can be relied upon."

"Do you mean to fight a duel?" asked the young man.

"It will certainly be a duel which we shall have to fight," said the other, examining the priming of his pistols. "And what a duel!" Handing one of the pistols to Raoul, he added: "In this duel, we shall be two to one; but you must be prepared for everything, for we shall be fighting the most terrible adversary that you can imagine. But you love Christine Daae, do you not?"

"I worship the ground she stands on! But you, sir, who do not love her, tell me why I find you ready to risk your life for her? You must certainly hate Erik!"

"No, sir," said the Persian sadly, "I do not hate him. If I hated him, he would long ago have ceased doing harm."

"Has he done you harm?"

"I have forgiven him the harm which he has done me."

"I do not understand you. You treat him as a monster, you speak of his crime, he has done you harm and I find in you the same inexplicable pity that drove me to despair when I saw it in Christine!"

The Persian did not reply. He fetched a stool and set it against the wall facing the great mirror that filled the whole of the wall-space opposite. Then he climbed on the stool, and, with his nose to the wall-paper, seemed to be looking for something.

"Ah," he said, after a long search. "I have it!"

And, raising his finger above his head, he pressed against a corner in the pattern of the paper. Then he turned round and jumped off the stool.

"In half a minute," he said, "we shall be on his road!" and crossing the whole length of the dressing-room he felt the great mirror.

"No, it is not yielding yet," he muttered.

"Oh, are we going out by the mirror?" asked Raoul. "Like Christine Daae."

"So you knew that Christine Daae went out by that mirror?"

"She did so before my eyes, sir! I was hidden behind the curtain of the inner room and I saw her vanish not by the glass, but in the glass!"

"And what did you do?"

"I thought it was an aberration of my senses, a mad dream. . . ."

"Or some new fancy of the ghost's!" chuckled the Persian. "Ah, M. de Chagny," he continued, still with his hand on the mirror, "would that we had to do with a ghost! We could then leave our pistols in their case. . . . Put down your hat, please. . . . there. . . . and now cover your shirt-front as much as you can with your coat. . . . as I am doing. . . . Bring the lapels forward. . . . turn up the collar. . . . We must make ourselves as invisible as possible. . . ."

Bearing against the mirror, after a short silence, he said:

"It takes some time to release the counterbalance, when you press on the spring from the inside of the room. It is different when you are behind the wall and can act directly on the counterbalance. Then the mirror turns at once and is moved with incredible rapidity."

"What counterbalance?" asked Raoul.

"Why, the counterbalance that lifts the whole of this wall on to its pivot. You surely don't expect it to move of itself, by enchantment! If you watch, you will see the mirror first rise an inch or two and then shift an inch or two from left to right. It will then be on a pivot and will swing round."

"It's not turning!" said Raoul impatiently.

"Oh, wait! You have time enough to be impatient, sir! The mechanism has obviously become rusty, or else the spring isn't working. . . . Unless it is something else," added the Persian anxiously.

"What?"

"He may simply have cut the cord of the counterbalance and blocked the whole apparatus."

"Why should he? He does not know that we are coming this way!"

"I dare say he suspects it, for he knows that I understand the system."

"It's not turning!" . . . And Christine, sir, Christine?"

The Persian said coldly:

"We shall do all that it is humanly possible to do! . . . But he may stop us at the first step! . . . He commands the walls, the doors and the trap-doors. In my country, he was known by a name which means the 'trap-door lover'."

"But why do these walls obey him alone? He did not build them!"

"Yes, sir, that is just what he did!"

Raoul looked at him in amazement; but the Persian made a sign to him to be silent and pointed to the glass.

There was a sort of shivering reflection. Their image was troubled as in a rippling sheet of water and then all became stationary again.

"You see, sir, that it is not turning! Let us take another road!"

"Tonight, there is no other!" declared the Persian, in a singularly mournful voice. "And now, look out! And be ready to fire!"

He himself raised his pistol opposite the glass. Raoul imitated his movement. With his free arm, the Persian drew the young man to his chest and, suddenly, the mirror turned, in a blinding daze of cross-lights; it turned like one of those revolving doors which have lately been fixed to the entrances of most restaurants, it turned, carrying Raoul and the Persian with it and suddenly hurling them from the full light into the deepest darkness.

CHAPTER XX.

In the Cellars of the Opera.

"Your hand high, ready to fire!" repeated Raoul's companion quickly.

The wall, behind them, having completed the circle which it described upon itself, closed again; and the two men stood motionless for a moment, holding their breath.

At last, the Persian decided to make a movement; and Raoul heard him slip on his knees and feel for something in the dark with his groping hands. Suddenly, the darkness was made visible by a small dark lantern and Raoul instinctively stepped backward as though to escape the scrutiny of a secret enemy. But he soon perceived that the light belonged to the Persian, whose movements he was closely observing. The little red disk was turned in every direction and Raoul saw that the floor, the walls and the ceiling were all formed of planking. It must have been the ordinary road taken by Erik to reach Christine's dressing-room and impose upon her innocence. And Raoul, remembering the Persian's remark, thought that it had been mysteriously constructed by the ghost himself. Later, he learned that Erik had found, all prepared for him, a secret passage, long known to himself alone and contrived at the time of the Paris Commune to allow the jailers to convey their prisoners straight to the dungeon: that had been constructed for them in the cellars; for the Federates had occupied the opera-house immediately after the eighteenth of March and had made a starting-place right at the top for their Mongolfier balloons, which carried their incendiary proclamations to the departments, and a state prison right at the bottom.

The Persian went on his knees and put his lantern on the ground. He seemed to be working at the floor; and suddenly he turned off his light. Then Raoul heard a faint click and saw a very pale luminous square in the floor of the passage. It was as though a window had opened on the opera cellars, which were still lit. Raoul no longer saw the Persian, but he suddenly felt him by his side and heard him whisper:

"Follow me and do all that I do."

Raoul turned to the luminous aperture. Then he saw the Persian, who was still on his knees, hang by his hands from the rim of the opening, with his pistol between his teeth, and slide into the cellar below.

Curiously enough, the viscount had absolute confidence in the Persian, though he knew nothing about him. His emotion when speaking of the "monster" struck him as sincere; and, if the Persian had cherished any sinister designs against him, he would not have armed him with his own hands. Besides, Raoul must reach Christine at all costs. He therefore went on his knees also and hung from the trap with both hands.

"Let go!" said a voice.

And he dropped into the arms of the Persian, who told him to lie down flat, closed the trap-door above him and crouched down beside him. Raoul tried to ask a question, but the Persian's hand was on his mouth and he heard a voice which he recognized as that of the commissary of police.

Raoul and the Persian were completely hidden behind a wooden partition. Near them, a small staircase led to a little room in which the commissary appeared to be walking up and down, asking questions. The faint light was just enough to enable Raoul to distinguish the shape of things around him. And he could not restrain a dull cry: there were three corpses there.

The first lay on the narrow landing of the little staircase; the two others had rolled to the bottom of the staircase. Raoul could have touched one of the two poor wretches by passing his fingers through the partition.

"Silence!" whispered the Persian. He too had seen the bodies and he gave one word in explanation: "He!"

The commissary's voice was now heard more distinctly. He was asking for information about the system of lighting, which the stage-manager supplied. The commissary therefore must be in the "organ" or its immediate neighborhood.

Contrary to what one might think, especially in connection with an opera-house, the "organ" is not a musical instrument. At that time, electricity was employed only for a very few scenic effects and for the bells. The immense building and the stage itself were still lit by gas; hydrogen was used to regulate and modify the lighting of a scene; and this was done by means of a special apparatus which, because of the multiplicity of its pipes, was known as the "organ." A box beside the prompter's box was reserved for the chief gas-man, who from there gave his orders to his assistants and saw that they were executed. Maclair stayed in this box during all the performances.

But now Maclair was not in his box and his assistants not in their places.

"Maclair! Maclair!"

The stage-manager's voice echoed through the cellars. But Maclair did not reply.

I have said that a door opened on a little staircase that led to the second cellar. The commissary pushed it, but it resisted.

"I say," he said to the stage-manager, "I can't open this door; is it always so difficult?"

The stage-manager forced it open with his shoulder. He saw that, at the same time, he was pushing a human body and he could not keep back an exclamation, for he recognized the body at once.

"Maclair! Poor devil! He is dead!"

But Mr. Commissary Mifroid, whom nothing surprised, was stooping over that big body.

"No," he said, "he is dead-drunk, which is not quite the same thing."

"It's the first time, if so," said the stage-manager.

"Then some one has given him a narcotic. That is quite possible."

Mifroid went down a few steps and said:

"Look!"

By the light of a little red lantern, at the foot of the stairs, they saw two other bodies. The stage-manager recognized Maclair's assistants. Mifroid went down and listened to their breathing.

"They are sound asleep," he said. "Very curious business! Some person unknown must have interfered with the gas-man and his staff. . . . and that person unknown was obviously working on behalf of the kidnapper. . . . But what a funny idea to kidnap a performer on the stage! . . . Send for the doctor of the theater, please." And Mifroid repeated, "Curious, decidedly curious business!"

Then he turned to the little room, addressing the people whom Raoul and the Persian were unable to see from where they lay.

"What do you say to all this, gentlemen? You are the only ones who have not given your views. And yet you must have an opinion of some sort."

Thereupon, Raoul and the Persian saw the startled faces of the joint managers appear above the landing—and they heard Moncharmin's excited voice:

"There are things happening here,

"Curious, Decidedly Curious Business!"

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

DINNER PARTY MENUS.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

So many letters have asked for menus suitable throughout for cooking in paper bags that here follow several, each suitable for a party dinner. Direction for cooking more than half their component parts have already been printed.

If you feel that you must begin your party feast with raw oysters, take them straight—from the half-shell. If the half-shell wafers cumbers you, serve the oysters in cocktails.

If your oysters must be hot, put them in a paper bag after draining them well, add a generous lump of butter for each dozen of the oysters, a dusting of pepper and a little salt. Seal the bag, which must be thickly buttered, and cook for six minutes inside a very hot oven.

Here is my ideal paper bag cooked dinner for six.

Grapefruit au Rhum
Olives Warmed in Sherry
Salted Pecans
Spiced Plums Celery Apple or Cranberry Sauce
Roast Turkey Raisin Stuffing
Gravy from the Bag
Endive Salad Sharp French Dressing
Sweet Potatoes in Syrup
Cauliflower au Gratin
Mince Pie Sweet Potato Custard
Fruit and Nuts in Variety
Black Coffee Wafers, Cheesed or Plain with Pimento Cheese

Here is a Christmas dinner for hearty appetites:

Oysters, Bag, Stewed and Served in Separate Bags
Celery Toasted Crackers
Quartered Lemons
Salted Peanuts Radishes Sharp Pickle
Roast Goose, Apple and Onion Stuffing
Baked Spanish Onions
Baked Irish Potatoes White Turnips
Apple Sauce Cucumber Catsup
Hot Corn Bread
Cold Slaw Boiled Dressing
Pimento Sandwiches Water Wafers
Pumpkin Pie Banana Pie
Pound Cake Caramel Cake
Nuts and Raisins
Coffee in large cups Sweet Cider
Water Wafers Dried Beef Crisped in a Pan

Beef thus crisped till it crackles in the teeth is wonderfully relished at the end of a heavy dinner. It gives the saving tang of salt that is so refreshing. A very little—a mere mouthful, suffices. Put it thinly in a clean pan, with a tiny dot of butter, set the pan in the oven after the fire is out, but while there is still heat, shut the door and leave till wanted. The beef can be crisped over a low flame, of course, if the oven is wanted for other use. Make the wafers also hot and crisp.

To make pimento sandwiches, mince half a can of pimentos, rub them well through a cake of the best cream cheese, adding enough French dressing to make the mixture spread smooth on the buttered bread. Few better accompaniments for any sort of salad can be found.

Peel and slice your turnips and put them in a well greased bag with a light seasoning of salt, a lump of butter barely dusted with flour, and enough thin stock to half cover them. Seal and cook in a gentle heat fifty minutes to an hour and a quarter, depending on the size of the bag. Empty into hot dish and if not rich enough

CREATED SENSATION IN LABOR CIRCLES

Business Agent for Machinists' Union Arrested.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 14.—On a warrant charging him with assisting in transporting dynamite and nitroglycerin from one state to another, C. A. Dowd of this city, the business agent of the machinists' union, was arrested here by a United States deputy marshal on an indictment returned by the federal grand jury at Indianapolis. Dowd was placed under arrest at the headquarters of the union in Reynolds Arcade. He was taken to the county jail, where he was locked up. His arrest created a sensation in union labor circles. James Wilson of Cincinnati, general organizer of the Patternmakers' association, is in Rochester and says he worked with Dowd in Toledo, Detroit and Pittsburgh and will vouch for his innocence.

RYAN INCLUDED

It Is Said Warrant Is Out For Head of Iron Workers' Union.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Warrants for the arrest of Chicago labor officials indicted by the Indianapolis federal grand jury in connection with the ramifications of the McNamara dynamite conspiracy, have been issued by the United States commissioner. Frank M. Ryan, president of the iron workers' union, and R. H. Houlihan, financial secretary of the Chicago local of that union, were named in two of the indictments. It was reported at the federal building that warrants for the arrest of five other Chicagoans have been issued.

The Word at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Feb. 14.—Three warrants have been received in Cincinnati for the arrest of men indicted by the Indianapolis grand jury in the dynamite investigation.

Yuan Asks For Help.

Shanghai, Feb. 14.—Yuan Shih Kai has telegraphed to Dr. Sun Yat Sen and his fellow republican leaders asking them to co-operate with him in insuring the permanence of the republic and in uniting the north and the south. Yuan says in his telegram that it is admitted throughout the world that a republic is the best form of government and that China owes the republic to their patriotism.

Army Officer's Suicide.

Manila, Feb. 14.—Lieutenant Reynolds Powers of the Eighth cavalry has killed himself. He was born in Tennessee in 1879.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The National league baseball men have adopted the playing schedule for the coming season.

Gus Ruhlin, once a leading heavy-weight pugilist, is dead at his home in Brooklyn. He was born in Akron, O., and was about forty years old.

The Georgia state Republican convention, after scenes of indescribable confusion and tumult, named two rival delegations to the national convention.

Governor Osborn has issued a call for a special session of the Michigan legislature, to be convened Feb. 26, for the purpose of enacting a law for the direct election of delegates to national conventions.

Governor W. R. Stubbs of Kansas has issued a statement declaring his intention of becoming a candidate for the United States senate against Senator Charles Curtis, whose term expires March 3, 1913.

UNDER A BANNER OF SOLID GREEN

"Restoration" Party Has Been Born In Mexico.

GOMEZ IS AT THE HEAD OF IT

The War Cry of the Partisans of the Northern Leader Is "Death to Madero," and Dozens of Bands of the Men Opposing the Recently Acclaimed Liberator Are Riding the Country, Looting the Ranches.

Mexico City, Feb. 14.—Vasquista leaders will at once begin the organization of all bands in the north under competent leaders, a restoration party having been born at Torreón. The new party will co-operate with Zapata in the south. The new army is rallying under a banner of solid green. Their war cry is "Death to Madero." The president of the new party is General Emilio Vasquez Gomez and General Aldazo, the defeated candidate for governor of Coahuila, vice president. Andreas Sanchez Fuentes and Martiniano Dalgado, who revolted at Monclova with 200 men, will probably be in the cabinet of the new party, in which Zapata will be the minister of war.

The platform of the new party calls for the restoration of the army, careful treatment of Americans and foreigners, the protection of the lives and interests of foreigners and the levying on foreigners only in dire extremities. There was a sharp fight at the Zozoga ranch on the Nozias river, between rurales and rebels. Thirty rebels were killed and fifty made prisoners. The prisoners were executed. The federals lost ten killed and many wounded. The battle lasted four hours.

Bands of Raiders Active.

Throughout northern Mexico the condition is becoming more alarming. In Torreón dozens of bands of men opposing the Madero government are riding the country robbing and looting, declaring they are part of the new army of Emilio Vasquez Gomez. Railroads are tied up, bridges burned and the express companies have ceased to handle valuables. Vasquistas are reported to have robbed the American Smelting Securities company at Teranaz and the Penoles company at Napimi, in the state of Durango.

Bearing out Mexican government intimations that the recent Juarez mutiny was not confined alone to the men of the garrison and that the imprisonment of Colonel Augustin Estrada by his men and his immediate release was only a blind, the secret service agents of the Mexican government have unearthed in the colonel's trunk in El Paso documents that they say implicate him also.

NAME WITHDRAWN

Swain Not to Be Named United States Marshal in Delaware.

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Taft has withdrawn the nomination of Cornelius P. Swain to be United States marshal for the district of Delaware. The action came as an unexpected climax to an investigation of alleged political corruption in Delaware politics that threatened to make it unpleasant for United States Senator Dupont. The withdrawal came as the direct result of a request by Senator Dupont to Attorney General Wickersham. It was alleged that Swain had been implicated in vote buying.

Got the Wrong Man.

Wabash, Ind., Feb. 14.—Mistaking G. R. Henshaw, an Indianapolis insurance man, for a spy who was attempting to induce strike breakers to leave the Big Four shops here, A. S. Mills, a special policeman, attacked the man and severely injured him. Henshaw says he visited the shop to look for insurance prospects when he was attacked.

Dr. Sun's Adviser Dying.

Shanghai, China, Feb. 14.—General Homer Lea, the American officer who has been acting as adviser to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the president of the Chinese republic, is in a critical condition. He has been unconscious for some time.

Shot Innocent Bystander.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 14.—John W. McGown, formerly a patrolman, was accidentally shot by Albert McDonough, a bartender, when the latter fired in a quarrel with Lee Moore.

YUNG KWAI.

Secretary in Charge of Legation at Washington.

EASED THEIR MINDS

The Chinese Legation at Washington Hears Good News.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The great uncertainty which has existed in the minds of all the members of the Chinese legation as to their own status since the outbreak of the Chinese revolution was settled in a cablegram from Yuan Shih Kai, premier at Peking. Yuan's message brought great relief to the Chinese officials, inasmuch as it stated that all diplomatic and consular representatives of China would retain their posts and act as the representatives of the Chinese government.

It is believed that funds for the maintenance of the Chinese students in the United States will be forthcoming as well as the supply of funds for the expenses of the legation and its staff. The fact that an agreement has at last been reached for the formation of a new government is expected to make all the revenues of the entire empire available once more for the needs of the government both at home and abroad.

The fact that the state department will continue to transact business with the charge d'affaires of the Chinese legation, Mr. Yung Kwai, does not by any means imply recognition of the republican government of China. He will be regarded as the diplomatic representative of a provisional government with whom circumstances made it necessary to carry on diplomatic intercourse.

SELFISH MOTIVES IN THE BREASTS OF MEN

The Actuating Impulse in the Trade World, Says Hill.

Washington, Feb. 14.—If the government ever attempted to control business to the extent of fixing prices it would be the beginning of the end of this government, so James J. Hill told the Stanley steel investigating committee. The railroad man declared that corporate combination, properly regulated within certain defined limitations, menaced neither the welfare of the people nor the integrity of the government. Mr. Hill took sharp issue with the recommendations of E. H. Gary, Andrew Carnegie, George W. Perkins and others prominent in the financial world, that laws should be passed providing for government supervision over interstate corporations to the extent of fixing either maximum or minimum prices. He argued that the principle of competition in business would prevail as long as the law of the survival of the fittest operated, and he predicted that the law would in all probability continue as an active force forever.

"The age of competition has not passed," said Mr. Hill. "It will not pass until you eliminate the selfish motives that move men in this world. If the federal government should undertake the sort of regulation that you suggest there would soon be no federal government."

"Suppose," suggested Chairman Stanley, "that you and other financiers came to exercise complete domination over industry in this country and were allowed to run it without restriction, and the rest of society, including labor, became dismembered, unable to check such a combination, how long would the government last under such circumstances?"

"I think it would last about a week," replied Mr. Hill.

The railroad builder went on to say that he would let corporations flourish. "Do not fear them on account of their size," he said, "but do not let them overcapitalized. When they put a dollar into property see to it that it is a hundred-cent dollar."

Charles W. Morse, the recently pardoned New York banker convict, has sailed for Europe.

LITTLE INCREASE AT POSTOFFICE

Postal Clerks This Year Note Very Little Difference in Mail at

This Season.

IT IS ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

People Use Post Cards More Now-

days For Such Purposes—Disappearance of Ugly Ones.

Tonight will see the last of the rush incident to Valentine day at the local postoffice. There was a perceptible increase in the mail yesterday and today due to the sending of valentines. But the Valentine day rush this year was nothing compared to what it has been in the past.

"The Valentine business this year is light to what it has been," said Harvey Allen, postal clerk. "There has been a noticeable increase in the mail in the last few days, but we have not been worried much handling it. There is a noticeable lack of these tinsel cards which caused us so much trouble. They must be enclosed in an envelope or they can not go through the mail. The public has been well educated in that regard by this time through the newspapers and by other methods. People are resorting more nowadays to the use of post cards for valentines."

There is little doubt but what the custom of Valentine day have changed. Only a few years ago it was customary for every dealer to keep on hand for the valentine season a large and assorted stock of so-called "valentines," which were designed to describe the weaknesses, physical or otherwise, and all the unlovely or regrettable traits that any person in the world might possess.

These creations, for the most part, were either villainously ugly or painfully silly, and they enabled persons of a peculiar sense of humor to actually give certain sensitive acquaintances of theirs many a sharp stab in the dark. It has been noted with pleasure that the local displays have few of these disgraceful missives among them.

THIRD CANDIDATE IS OUT

Walter G. Bridges of Greenfield Would be State Senator.

Walter G. Bridges of Greenfield has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for joint senator from Rush, Hancock and Fayette counties. This makes the third candidate for the nomination, C. W. Duncan of Greenfield and Henry E. Guffin of this county having already decided to enter the race. Mr. Bridges is a Greenfield business man. He was chairman of the Hancock county Republican central committee during two campaigns and was postmaster at Greenfield from 1906 to 1910.

SAYS IT'S COLDEST WINTER.

Uncle Clint Blackledge, now in his ninety-first year, was in Rushville today, and said of the ninety winters he had passed through the present one had been the ongest in continued low temperature. He had seen as cold weather, but the periods of cold had been shorter. He was feeling much improved by the sunshine and moderate temperature, having been kept at home most of the winter by ill health.
